

*Make enough copies for each group to have own set of pictures/steps. Have pictures cut out and have students match the picture to the correct writing process step – in order.

BRAINSTORM

THESIS

OUTLINE DRAFT

EDIT/REVISE

FINAL

Five Paragraph Essay Outline

- I. Introductory Paragraph
  - A. Create a topic sentence that will draw in the audience.
    - 1. Note subtopic 1 (this will be topic of 2nd paragraph)
    - 2. Note subtopic 2 (this will be topic of 3rd paragraph)
    - 3. Note subtopic 3 (this will be topic of 4th paragraph)
  - B. Create a strong transition
- II. First Supporting Paragraph
  - A. Restate what subtopic 1 is.
    - 1. Supporting detail or example
    - 2. Supporting detail or example
  - B. Transition
- III. Second Supporting Paragraph
  - A. Restate what subtopic 2 is.
    - 1. Supporting detail or example
    - 2. Supporting detail or example
  - B. Transition
- IV. Third Supporting Paragraph
  - A. Restate what subtopic 3 is.
    - 1. Supporting detail or example
    - 2. Supporting detail or example
  - B. Transition
- V. Conclusion or closing summary
  - A. Synthesis and or conclusion of thesis
  - B. Restate main topic and subtopics

Students should participate in electing an institution’s president.

Opinion Paper on The Prince

A special character to me is the prince in the story 'The Sleeping Beauty'. In my opinion, what makes the prince interesting is that he is smart, brave, and he never gives up.

First of all, I feel that the prince is smart. In the story, he realizes that if he turned toward the beautiful visions, the way got harder and harder, therefore, he went close to the monsters and it got easier to walk. Another example is when he got closer to the griffins and the griffins gets smaller and smaller.

Secondly, I believe he is brave because the story tells us, he tried to eat him so he cut his head off. Another example that he is brave is when he came to a swamp with a lot of monsters and got past there.

Most importantly, I feel he never gives up since the story states after a week a griffin got smaller and smaller. Another time was when the tree prince escaped the forest that was sharp to find Sleeping Beauty.

In conclusion, I think the prince is a special character because he is smart, brave, and he never gives up.

[Handwritten text, likely a student's draft or final copy of an opinion paper, with some corrections and annotations.]